

53rd Street Music

Dani Hayduk Bio

Dani has been interested in everything involving music ever since she was little. Growing up, she had the privilege of taking voice and piano lessons starting at age 9. Being involved in music from a young age really set her creativity level and helped her grow as an individual.

Throughout Dani's adolescence, she was able to partake in musical theatre productions, as well as participate in local and provincial festivals and competitions. She completed her Grade 8 RCM in both Piano and Voice.

After high school, she studied as a vocal major at Red Deer College and graduated in April of 2011. In her time spent at the college she grew as a performer, having multiple opportunities to perform on Mainstage, and other various venues in Red Deer.

Through the college, her appreciation for other types of music flourished, and she began to venture into the contemporary, folk, pop, musical theatre, and blues styles. Studying both the classical genres, and the contemporary genres helped her expand her vocal abilities and talents. She has been able to coordinate the music for weddings and events and have been teaching both Voice and Piano since 2008. Her love of music continues to grow and she is very happy for the opportunity to be able to impart happiness to others through music as well.

She brings a fun, positive attitude to her Piano and Voice lessons, as a student's enjoyment of music is most important.